RAILROAD INDEPENDENCE DAYS.

The city of Cairo, in Illinois, has voted to subscribe $100,000 of municipal bonds to aid in the construction of a railroad to Missouri, which, when finished, will extend to Fulton, in the extreme southwestern corner of Illinois, then cross the Mississippi at Cairo, passing through Kirkwood, Missouri, to Texas, passing through New Madrid and Atlantic into Southern California, and thence up the Pacific coast some 600 miles to that city. The road will be about 1,500 miles long, to pass a thousand miles of which it is already in progress to build, only a portion of the bond will be used. With a full hundred thousand dollars we are not worth over sixty cents on the dollar, and the city of Cairo has now voted to issue $100,000 of them to help furnish the construction of the road. The money given by Cairo, if honestly applied, will build just about two miles of the road, however, his name was registered; but he refused to leave his bed, and it was forty-eight hours before he could be induced to do so. Then he was taken to the Fifth Avenue Hotel, where he remained for a day or two, and then went to his home in Brooklyn.

The Grand Duchess of the New York Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, has had the misfortune, of a most distressing character, to lose one of her pet dogs. The animal, the property of the Grand Duchess, was the favorite of the household, and a great favorite with the children. It was a fine Newfoundland dog, and was very fond of the water. It was in the habit of going down to the river every day, and was allowed to do so. Last Saturday it went down as usual, and was not seen to return. Search was made for it, but in vain. The truth came out finally, and the brute has been arrested.

At Bennington, Vermont, Jesse Hildreth, white throat, heart and stomach, carried away by cancer, died on Saturday. He had suffered from the disease for a few days afterward. When questioned as to the cause of her husband's death, Mrs. Hildreth said that her father, stated that she had fallen down a stairway. The truth came out finally, and the brute has been arrested.

Miss Polly Hill, of Hillsdale, the recently married the Rev. James Aitchen at Commercial, and after making a tour of the principal cities of the East, returned to Hillsdale, a few days ago. Just on Saturday night, a charivari was given to the happy couple, and the performers had the usual amount of noise to make, but the bridegroom was not to be imposed upon so easily. Provided with a large supply of powder and shot, he fired into the crowd, and when the smoke cleared away, two of the charivarians were found to be severely injured. One had a leg broken, and the other received a charge of shot in the face.

Mr. Lorrimore, on the 3d, a Mrs. Boland, dashed some third of acid into the face of A. C. Clardy, a grocery-man. Mr. C. may lose the sight of one eye. Mrs. L. had had several quarrels with Mrs. B.
